

DR. CROWLEY SAYS HIS METHOD TO QUARANTINE PEOPLE IS NOT CRUEL.

BOERS READY FOR INSTANT HOSTILITIES.

HARD KNOCKS FOR THE TRUSTS AT CHICAGO.

DR. JAMES P. DUNN

Dr. Dunn Does Not Agree With Dr. Crowley In all Matters Relating to Quarantine.

Dr. Woolsey Is in Favor of Having all the Necessary Steps Taken in Order to Prevent the Spread of Consumption.

DR. E. H. WOOLSEY

Dr. D. D. Crowley returned from Sacramento last evening after attending the meeting of the State Board of Health of which he is a member.

Dr. Crowley's plan to quarantine consumptives has caused a great deal of discussion and is now being discussed throughout the State.

The resolution introduced and adopted by the State Board will soon be fully discussed by that body. Dr. Crowley has two plans:

First—Quarantine all consumptives at the State House.

Second—Prevent consumptives within the State from mingling with the masses. They should not be allowed to attend churches or places of amusement, but be taken to a State Sanatorium where consumptives can be treated on a scientific basis.

In discussing the important subject today Dr. Crowley said: "I am pleased with the manner in which the subject has been given the subject much publicity and this will tend to make people think."

The morning papers have quoted a number of physicians on the subject of quarantine. A few believe that the subject is difficult to handle and think that the matter had better be dropped. I think that the health of our people should be considered and mankind's sentiment should not take the place of sanitary work.

HIS PLANS.

"I have not yet formulated an absolute plan for our Board of Health to act upon. I shall take time and confer with the members of the Board and obtain their opinions upon methods that will not be a hardship to consumptives but will be a protection to our State. When these things are accomplished, I shall present a synopsis of the same to the State Board of Health and the same will be subject to their action."

"There is no denying the fact that we ought to prevent consumptives from entering our State and mixing indiscriminately with people who are free from the disease."

"We should look after those consumptives who are already here. They should be under the surveillance of the county and municipal boards of health throughout the State."

NOT CRUEL.

"The sanitary laws should be uniform in the various counties and the health officers should rigidly enforce the same. I do not consider my plan either cruel or inhuman nor do I desire it to be so."

"I do not desire that those who are suffering from consumption should be permitted to kill others before they themselves die. That is the reason why I do not want consumptives to mix promiscuously with the masses."

"There is a general impression throughout the United States that California is a very temperate climate and that once having arrived here a consumptive will regain his health. This, of course, is more or less an erroneous impression. They are now transforming a part of our State into a consumptive colony. A portion of France, known as the Riviera, is a winter resort, but is now so well known to be infected with the germ of tuberculosis that the people of the world are avoiding it. The place is now the home of the consumptive, who not only infects the people of the district, but also the people of the district."

DR. DUNN QUES HIS VIEWS ON THE SUBJECT.

DR. JAMES P. DUNN—As to the matter of quarantining every person suffering from tuberculosis, I don't believe in it. For careless patients who will not follow the instructions of their physicians, for those who do not obey the ordinances against expectorating on sidewalks, and for the classes who are ignorant to be trusted for all these it is as necessary to have them quarantined as to have lunatics confined in asylums. They are just as dangerous to the community—in fact, far more so.

It is now universally recognized by men of science that the only serious mode of communication of consumption from one human being to another is through the results of expectoration. If the patient will be sufficiently careful about that, there is absolutely no danger.

I am as much in favor, as Dr. Crowley is, of the establishment of State sanatoriums for the treatment of tuberculosis. A great deal of original research by such students as Koch of Germany and his disciples in this country, has been expended in this direction. Now, as we know more about the disease, we are going at the other end, and are aiming to prevent the spread of the disease, rather than to cure it. By means of properly educating the public there will come a time when consumption in the world will become a thing of the past. Both as a means of public education and a means of prevention, the rigorous supervision of the sources of this disease by the health authorities is indispensable. I believe in keeping up the agitation. Let the work go on.

DR. WOOLSEY AGREES WITH DR. CROWLEY.

Dr. E. H. Woolsey, Oakland—I fully agree with Dr. Crowley as to the utility of the various measures to prevent the spread of consumption. (Continued on Page 5.)

Kruger Talks Peace But His Fighting Men Are Within Striking Distance of the Border and the Clash Cannot Long be Delayed.

PRETORIA, Sept. 15. The Executive is still considering the final reply to Great Britain. All the commandants have been asked to send immediate return of all burghers available for military service.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—A blue book, containing the last Transvaal dispatch to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Chamberlain, relating to the matters which led up to the dispatch being sent, was issued today. The text of Mr. Chamberlain's note is identical with the dispatch as cabled to the Associated Press September 13th. The only important feature revealed is a telegram from the British High Commissioner, Sir Alfred Milner, dated August 28th, referring to the commercial distress and saying:

BRITISH WANT ACTION.

"I am receiving representations from many quarters to urge the imperial government to terminate the suspense. British South Africa is prepared for extreme measures and is ready to suffer much more to see the vindication of British authority. It is the prolongation of the negotiations, endless and indecisive, that is dreaded. I fear seriously that there will be a strong reaction of feeling against the policy of the imperial government if matters drag. Please understand that I invariably preach conference and confidence and patience, and not without effect. But if I did not inform you of the increasing difficulty of doing this and of the unmistakable growth of uneasiness about the present situation, and of the desire to see it terminated at any cost, I should be failing in my duty."

Other lengthy dispatches from the British High Commissioner are published, but they only reiterate the Chamberlain claims regarding the franchise and the Commissioner's idea regarding the proposals already made. The blue book throws no new light on the situation as it is today, except to show the Commissioner's patience has reached the ebbing point.

KRUGER'S STATEMENT.

A published interview with President Kruger, said to have taken place at Pretoria yesterday, is far more important. He is quoted as saying: "I have tried all along to place the allies in the Transvaal on the same footing politically as the burghers. Mr. Chamberlain says I have not kept my promise. 'This,' thundered President Kruger, 'I deny.'"

Continuing, Mr. Kruger is reported to have added: "The allies of the Transvaal have been treated as second-class burghers, and have always enjoyed them without interference. I wanted to let them have the same political rights. They would not avail themselves of this. Roughly, there are more than 50,000 allies who have been here more than seven years and have registered, thus being eligible to the franchise. Yet of the British subjects who have availed themselves of it, the chief part have been Afrikaners and not English-born. This shows that the British in the Transvaal do not want the franchise.

"In my opinion there is no cause whatever for war. Everything could be settled by arbitration."

A second edition of the London Times today prints a special dispatch from Newcastle, dated September 15th, which bears out the British High Commissioner's statement, as it says the Outlander's council has transmitted to the imperial government what practically amounts to a protest against further delay.

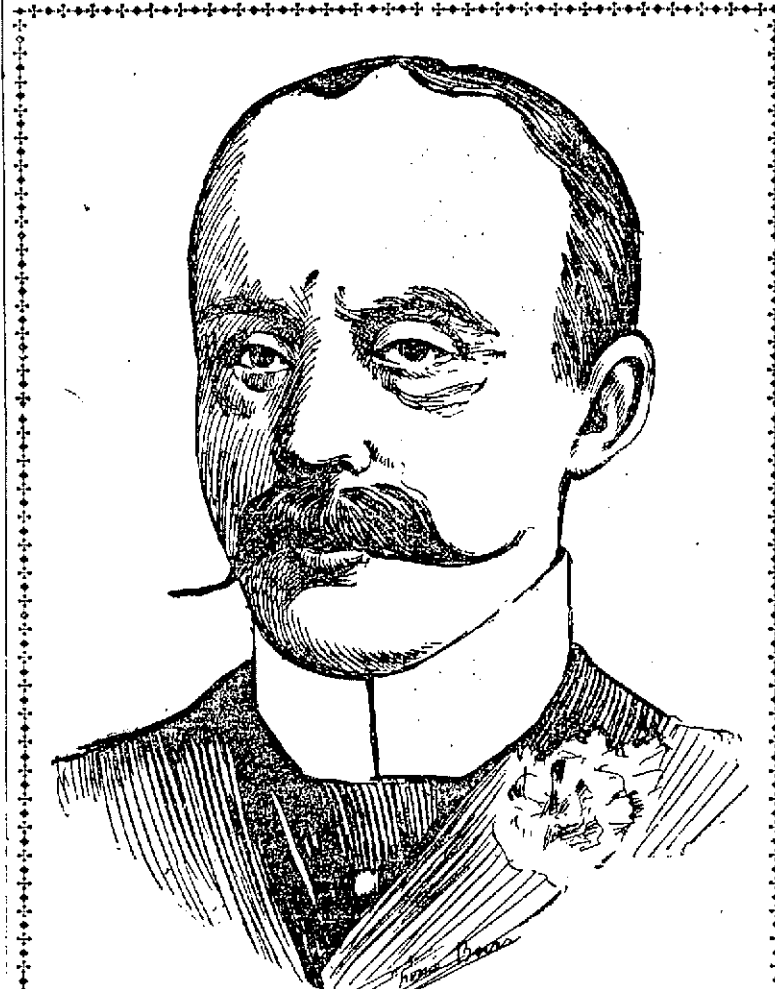

The correspondent says: "They cannot contemplate without grave misgivings the possibility that the Pretoria government will be permitted to further delay matters on the plea of consulting the burghers."

FAIRLY CONFLICT LIKELY.

"The Times' correspondent adds: 'There is nothing to confirm the report that the Boers will concede Mr. Chamberlain's demands. On the contrary, it is stated that 3,000 men will be dispatched to the border immediately after the Transvaal's reply is sent. Everything points to the prospect of an early conflict.'"

The advice from Cape Town today tends to confirm the pessimistic view of the Times' correspondent at Newcastle. The news that a strong force of Boers has been stationed on the border since the arrival of the British troops in South Africa, the fact that the Boers are now in the first instance of the reinforcements, were sent from Gibraltair to Cape Town.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Workingmen, trust adherents, advocates of single tax theories and students of political economy were heard today at the third day's session of the trust conference held here. Some of the speakers spoke in vigorous terms against industrial, financial and transportation combinations. The problem in its relations to the workingman was discussed. The list of prominent speakers announced for the day served to draw the largest crowd of the conference.

The Committee on Resolutions named by the conference yesterday held its first meeting at 9:30 o'clock this morning and organized by electing ex-Governor John W. Aldrich, chairman, and Ralph H. Mealey, secretary.

More than an hour was spent in discussing plans for the work.

W. W. Howe of Louisiana moved the appointment of a sub-committee of five to receive and consider resolutions and report to a general committee.

The motion was carried and Chairman Aldrich was authorized to name the sub-committee. He said it would be announced later in the day.

The committee adjourned to meet again at 2 p. m.

BRYAN AND COCHRAN TONIGHT.

The events on the program for the day's session were overshadowed by the announcement that in the evening Colonel William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska and W. Bourke Cochran, the eloquent speaker from the same platform, the prominence of the speakers gave rise to a general impression that the night session would be of more political than economic interest.

An address by Louis Post, the New York advocate of single tax, was enthusiastically cheered.

Thomas J. Morgan spoke on "The Trust from the Social Point of View." He was followed by Henry White, secretary of the United States Garment Workers of America, who said in conclusion:

"The trust managers have magnificent opportunities to do good. They have the knowledge of human nature, which we know has not changed recently for a thousand years under varying conditions. We have cause for grave doubts whether they will use this knowledge to the benefit of the community. We have seen people have never failed to successfully meet a great issue when once they applied the knowledge of human nature to such a gathering as this gives us hope that the age of reaction is passing and when we hear everything is possible."

Mr. Cochran, who spoke on the iron and steel workers' view of the trusts, and E. D. Clark, grand chief of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, were not present when Chairman Howe called their names, and John W. Hayes, secretary of the Knights of Labor, was requested to deliver his address.

HOT SHOT FOR THE TRUSTS.

In part he said:

"I maintain that these great combinations are an assault upon the inherent and constitutional rights of the citizen; that the rule and vital advantage gained is the despotic control over the laborer."

Violence is not the only means of making conquest and enslaving the people, and it can be proven beyond any question that the methods of the trusts are methods of the invader, and the ends to be accomplished by the instigators of the trusts are the same as those intended to be accomplished by arms directed by military genius. Taking this view of the trusts, which I assert is the correct one, we should be as determined to destroy them as we should be to destroy any common enemy, and the financial and industrial trusts should be treated as such.

The trust being an aggressive combination for purely selfish objects, attacks the individual and only by curtailing his natural rights seizes upon his field of opportunity and production, appropriating them to its own personal use. The trust is a combination of individuals, which are seen invaded and monopolized, or other combinations, seeing the success of the trust, are induced to join in the same campaign of conquest. Soon the individual is overwhelmed and every field of production is monopolized by a trust."

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, followed Secretary Hayes. He said in part:

"I have seen the enactment of the law known as the interstate commerce law, supposed to be enacted for the practical use of these laws has been to steal away from us the right of trial by jury and to imprison the workmen for conspiracy."

"As a matter of fact, wherever the workers are organized and have maintained their organizations, their wages are higher and hours lower and conditions better, in spite of combinations of capital."

"In the midst of greater concentrations of wealth and the vast development of industry, it behooves the workers to more consciously than ever devote their energies to the fight against the trusts, and the effect which their helpless condition would otherwise bring upon them."

Mr. Gompers was loudly applauded.

The conference then recessed until 8 o'clock.

The Boers don't seem worth a cent. John Bull will eventually have to make his bluff good.

Our war expenses are said to be footing up about $30,000 a day. No wonder that the Internal Revenue collectors have received strict orders to hunt around and see if anyone is evading the stamp tax.

Superintendent Robertson's address to the employees of the Oakland Transit Company should be circulated among the carmen on all the other lines, for it is check full of good stuff. Many an accident would be avoided if the rules he lays down were strictly followed.

The improvement clubs are all agreed upon one thing—that we must obtain the enterprises planned for the city if we expect to keep our end up. It should be comparatively easy, therefore, to decide just how we shall get them and the amount of money to be apportioned to each.

It is remarkable that nearly every ship that comes in from the north reports a narrow escape from collision with the derelict off Point, yet the tugs that are out to hunt for it, return with the report that they cannot locate it in any direction. That is the conundrum of fortune, though. A man who wants a thing generally has a hard time getting it, whereas the individual who can get along without it bumps into it at every turn.

The successful trip of the new monster steamer, the Olympic, shows how far our shipbuilders have advanced over the days when the Great Eastern was launched. Getting her in running order before the present season closed was a good stroke of business, for the ship will be ready to participate in the Paris exposition rush, and as she can carry 140 passengers at a trip, she will soon start turning into her owners' pockets the $5,000,000 spent upon her.

It would be interesting to know the inside facts about the amount of money actually subscribed by the scores of oil companies that are being launched nowadays. Most of them are but figures in the hundreds of thousands, but as a matter of fact they are going in on the proverbial "sleazebag" and are relying on the dear public to put up all the coin. The "promoter" is having his fling just now, and according to all accounts is doing remarkably well.

Bourke Cochran wants President McKinley to interfere in behalf of the Boers. Such a stand would be very illogical, for among the most clamorous of the Filibusters are the members of the American colony. Our engineers and mining men have, in fact, suffered more from the positions of the Boer government than any other of the foreign element. So if we are going to get down on the Boer at all it is easy to see upon which side we belong.

SOMETHING ABOUT TAXES.

Here is the kind of a paragraph that is going the rounds of the Democratic press nowadays—the sample presented being taken from the Contra Costa Transcript: "Under Republican rule this year the State tax rate is 60 cents on the $100. Under Democratic rule last year the tax rate was 10 cents on the $100, a difference of 50 per cent in favor of Democratic rule. What do you think of it, taxpayers?"

We are glad that the Transcript asked the taxpayers to put on their thinking caps regarding the matter, for the moment they do the Democratic argument is doomed. It is a matter of common knowledge that the last Democratic administration, in order to be able to go before the people with a showing such as the one advanced, resorted to tactics that were absolutely necessary. Appropriations that were absolutely necessary were slashed right and left, the agricultural districts throughout the State were left without a dollar with which to conduct their annual gatherings, the State printing office was closed down, thereby crippling the usefulness of nearly every State department, and, in fact, a condition of financial chaos reigned in every direction. It is nothing to be proud of, therefore, that the Democrats succeeded in obtaining a low tax rate in such a manner.

The Republicans, however, have gone about everything on a business basis. The obligations bequeathed to them by the Democrats have been paid, the pledges made to the people at election time have been kept, the State printing office and all the other departments are running, the agricultural interests have been looked after by liberal appropriations for the various districts, and no one to whom the State owes a dollar is being kept out of it. Surely the people are better satisfied with a 60 cent rate under these conditions than a 45 cent one on the credit system.

THE BUDDHIST CRUSADE.

The Buddhist priests who have arrived here from Japan and have opened a mission with the object of converting Christians to their belief are more than likely to have their trouble for nothing, though they may possibly succeed in gathering into their fold a few recruits from what is known as the crank element.

There was a time in this country when it looked as if Buddhism would succeed in taking root in our midst, but it has happily passed away. The occasion referred to was when Madame Blavatsky, the famous leader of the Theosophists, was in the zenith of her glory and when her "Isis Unveiled" and other occult works were puzzling those who attempted to master them. Theosophy is a twin sister to Buddhism, for both proceed upon the same theory that man can so spiritualize himself in this life as to be able to enter one of the lower heavens and thereby obtain such a control over his soul as to be able to separate it from his body at will. To attain this high degree of existence, though, great sacrifices are demanded in the form of prayer, fasting and immunity from all things worldly, the most desirable method of preparation prescribed being to cut off all possible communion with the world during the period of novitiate, as the Buddhist students of Hindostan and Tibet do when they retire to the almost inaccessible monasteries of the Himalayas and there pass seven years in absolute seclusion while tithing themselves for the purification of spirit that is necessary to receive holy orders.

Blavatsky turned the heads of a good many people with her wild theories, and as the belief is an attractive one, she soon obtained many recruits from the element that before her time had been dubbed spiritualists. She claimed to possess all sorts of wondrous powers, such as being able to disengage her soul from her body and hold interviews with other members of the faith who were at the time thousands of miles distant. She did not descend to any of what might be termed the tricks of the business such as state writings, seances, and other palatable fakes, but instead conducted the movement she headed, on a very high scale. She possessed the power of personal magnetism to a wonderful degree, and the wide knowledge she had acquired of her subjects gave her almost a supernatural standing among those who were willing to accept her teachings.

With the death of Madame Blavatsky, though, the seeds of Buddhism she had sown were soon uprooted, for although she was succeeded in the presidency of the Theosophists by Colonel Occult, another student of "Karma" and all things pertaining to it, there was soon evidence that her domination had been merely a personal one. Theosophy and Buddhism began to wane in the public interest, and although the Theosophists form a strong organization in this country at the present time, the tendencies are against them rather than in their favor.

The Buddhist missionaries have, therefore, started an inopportune time to spread their doctrines here, for so many factors appeared upon the scene at the time of Blavatsky's death and claimed supernatural powers that were afterwards proved to be but mere tricks, that the public has about lost what little confidence it ever possessed in that form of belief. Buddhism cannot compete with "Christianity" in any event, for although the latter teaches some moral lessons, it lacks the divine affirmations of our own faith and offers us in exchange for what we already possess something far inferior.

The Democrats think that they are going to make lots of capital for their party out of the great anti-trust conference that is in progress in Chicago, but they will have a hard time satisfying the blame for the present conditions upon the Republicans, for the argument will be a dangerous one for them to use, that the expanding prosperity that has attended the McKinley administration has brought about these heavy alliances of capital. They certainly won't be able to find anything in the Republican tenets or doctrines that brought about the combination.

The fact that the receipts for the State Fair up to date are more than double those of the same period last year shows that a new life has been put in the gathering. President A. B. Sprick and Secretary Peter Shields are being well repaid for the hard work they did in making the arrangements that are proving such a great success.

The Mabel committee is not going to accomplish much in the line of actually beating any venality, but it will do lots of good in scaring the holders into conformity for a while. They are not so likely to stand when they know that the eyes of honest men are upon them.

Wouldn't it be queer if after all we see the new library building through, and then find out where we would put it? Stranger things than that have happened in Oakland in the past, so we ought to be on the alert this time.

There is no place like home—for trading purposes. Spend your money right where you live and help to build up the community instead of adding to the wealth of the money-makers across the bay.

Powder works are to be constructed in the vicinity of Martinez. It will probably be a good thing for the town if an explosion does happen once in a while—it will help to keep it awake.

NEWS OF THE LABOR UNIONS.

Workmen Organize for Their Own Protection.

Now that a new library building is an assured fact, and with a prospect of much other public improvements, the labor unions of this city see that it is their duty to take the authorities who have the right of contracts to stipulate that the work be done by union men, and as much as possible by home labor.

The men feel that it is only just that the workmen of this city should be given the preference as much as possible. The erection of a one hundred thousand dollar building means the spending of thousands of dollars for wages, and if no part of this city are employed and get this money it will soon find its way into the coffers of the merchants in return for goods purchased.

TRADES COUNCIL.
At the meeting of the Trades Council last Monday evening the Lumber Union was admitted to the Council and the following officers elected: John Conlon, Thomas Newcomb and Thomas De Villars.

THE CARPENTERS.
The Carpenters' Union held an enthusiastic meeting last Monday evening in Y. M. I. hall.

A committee on the minimum wage scale reported only two contractors still refused to pay the rate demanded.

THE PLUMBERS.
The Master Plumbers held their regular meeting last Thursday of the month in Clark's hall.

There was an unusually large attendance and much enthusiasm for the welfare of the association was expressed.

A communication was received from the Journeymen Plumbers' Union favoring an anti-trust pact.

A discussion of the subject brought out the fact that the Master Plumbers were not in a position to sign such a pact, as it is probable that such a system will soon be in force among the plumbers.

The owners of forty-six out of fifty-one plumbers' shops in this city, Berkeley and Alameda, are members of the Master Plumbers' Association.

W. W. Graham, who has long been an active member from Alameda, has moved to Berkeley and has been elected to membership in the association that he still retains his membership. This is permitted, as there is no organization in the Oakland branch.

At the meeting of the Journeymen Plumbers last night the question of an anti-trust pact was discussed.

A previous meeting Charles C. Berwick and John H. Justice were appointed to represent the Master Plumbers at the meeting of the Journeymen Plumbers.

The charter membership list will be closed at the next meeting, Thursday, September 21st, after that a membership fee of $5 will be charged.

THE PLASTERERS.
The agreement between the Master Plasterers and the journeymen plasterers, lathers and laborers, has been declared off.

The agreement was made on the one hand, that the Master Plasterers should hire men on union men at union wages, and on the other hand, that union men should work for members of the Master Plasterers' Association.

Both sides agreed to settle any dispute that might arise by arbitration.

The agreement went into effect on the 15th of last May. It was with some diffidence that it was entered into, but the contractors were employing men and doing their own plastering.

Miss Mary McClees Makes a Strong Plea for a Proper Playground.

When the National Association of Landscape Architect Handed this plan for this unique public improvement project was presented to the Oakland Club and received with the greatest enthusiasm, and has done so much to quicken interest in this important subject.

"Of course, therefore, I deplore any suggestion that looks like robbing the children of their rights that are only just becoming to be recognized. We hope that the more we will perceive how vital to the normal well-being of our girls and boys the provision of playgrounds for them is. With the few suggestions in East Oakland our children have been wanting like adequate playgrounds."

children need all the time, at all hours of the day and every day in the year, in attractive playgrounds, with supervised sports, that shall take them off the streets. This need is the more imperative because our climate tempts them out.

out doors and away from their homes a throughout the year. There are a language of the streets and mounds of the streets and it is from these that the supervisory playgrounds would deliver them.

"Besides, it has been shown that the proportion of the real character forming portion of the racial situation is that the young persons be fair and manly, as well as gentle in tone and speech. For these reasons I should consider it a vast injury now if our City Council should take any step calculated to give a back set to the important movement, which so many of our citizens: women and others citizens had just begun to appreciate and support. I hope the Council will not rob in this manner the children who are to constitute the Oakland of the future.

Attempt to Hold New York Mass Meeting a Failure.

Associated Press Dispatches by

The Tribune's Special Leased Wire N.Y. (NY) Sept. 18.—There will no mass demonstration be held against the condemnation of Dreyfus. Efforts were made to arrange such a demonstration, but the committee asked to take a leading part declined to do so and expressed the opinion that the new trial was a foregone conclusion. It is the promoters of the affair declined to abandon the idea.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Strong, who was asked to preside, former Secretary of the Interior Bliss, President Cugenheimer of the American Jewish Committee, and others, understanding that the advocates of the new trial plan that they would do so, declined to participate in the demonstration, holding it and that they could not consent to participate in it.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—There is very little basis for the talk of boycotting the Paris exposition because of the sentence pronounced on Dreyfus. The committee in charge of the exposition is not holding it and that they could not consent to participate in it.

tive men expressed the view that the entire French nation should not be condemned because of the action of a military clique, and that the feeling aroused by the Dreyfus verdict should not be allowed to interfere with the exposition. Upon this point, however, there was some

"I think that agitation tending to arouse bitterness between this country and France because of the Dreyfus trial places us in rather a ridiculous position," said Cornelius N. Bliss. "My opinion is like that of most other Americans, that a great injustice has been done, but that of boycotting the Berlin exposition, because of it is foolish. The man came to the cause of it. Arguing him, arguing to him."

"We should pay no attention whatever to the Dreyfus case," said former Mayor Strong. "That is a matter of their own will suffer."

over there and what the judges have decided should not interfere with the exposition in any way. I intend to send my goods to the exposition just as if there had never been any Dreyfus case, and have not heard a single man talk withdrawing his exhibits."

William F. King, president of the Merchants' Association, is strongly opposed to any boycott of the exposition.

as we have. The action of the public parly should not condemn France.
regard to the suggested boycott of the exposition, I regard it as a very disgenuous precedent to establish for a government to boycott a sister government. No boycott was ever suggested and none ever will be, as civilization has advanced too rapidly. I think the position will probably be more successful

President Guggenheimer of the Council said: "I don't approve of the agitation of the mass meeting plan because I don't think they will do any good at this time. We all recognize the fact that great wrong has been done, but I love that agitation will not help matters any. I believe that exhibits should decline to send anything to Paris exposition and that America should no longer spend their money there. They can withdraw them in quiet and orderly manner, however, without offending disturbance."

"My first thought when I heard of verdict was that we ought to retaliate the exposition," said Frank S. Gardin, secretary of the Board of Trade & Transportation, "but, after all, the position is a business matter and merchants are to show goods for the own benefit rather than for that of France. Therefore, it would be foolish to hold back."

Joseph Larocque thinks that the success of the exposition will depend largely on whether Dreyfus is set free. Every one feels that justice has been outraged and that the feeling will not subside until Dreyfus is free.

he said, "but that feeling can have a seriously influence action in regard to exposition. A good deal will depend on the action of the French government and the higher courts on the Drey case."

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 16.—Among the many unfortunate prospectors who have returned from Alaska this season is an old man who cannot tell who is and who is not his friend. There is a clot of blood in his brain which has caused a paralysis of speech, due to typhoid fever.

The only words he can utter are "indistinct yes and no." By the aid of map it was learned that he had been in Cambridge, Massachusetts. A man who accompanied him from Dawson says his name is something like "Pisk." Efforts are being made to establish the man's identity. His limbs are also paralyzed.
